

A black and white cartoon illustration of a man in a suit and glasses, smiling, surrounded by several children. The man is holding a large, triangular, patterned object. The children are also holding similar objects. The scene is set against a background of vertical lines. Red circles and lines are drawn over the image, highlighting various elements.

