

The Grass Isn't Greener

Sometimes it is tempting to get jealous of things that other people have but it is really silly! We all have unique features, and talents that we bring to the table. In the right hand column do the following: In the first section draw something about yourself physically you like. In the second column draw an item you have that you love. In the third column draw an activity that you are good at.

	1.
	2.
	3.